I am writing to you today about RFDTV. programming. This is one of the best family programs on TV that we watch. Many of the channels that we have we hardly ever watch, because of some of the content that isn't worth watching. I feel like we have let our children down by some of the stuff on TV today in our time. I am a wife, mother, grandmother, and great grandmother at the age of 71. I have a GED certified and a Master Gardener Certified. We have a small garden each year and our grandchildren have a hand in picking out the plants and seeds that we plant. They are 10 & 6 years old. They have 2 dogs, chickens and roosters, a goat. They are responsible for feeding and watering them. They gather the eggs, and have just found out how important a rooster is to baby chicks. They are learning a lot from Grandpapa and MeMe. So please don't take this channel off the air.
