Our radio station is required to sign on and sign off at several different times through out the year. This is very confusing to me and many others. We often miss a sign-on or sign-off local news and/or weather report. It often requires some local programing features to be switched to different times of the broadcast day [such as farm market reports and daily commentaries on farming and other matters that are generated locally about matters pertaining to our local interests].

This inconsistence causes me and others to often miss this type programing which programing I believe is the primary function of local area radio stations.
Thank you.
