

60001548163.txt

I watch RFD-TV on Dish Network. There is relatively little programming available of particular interest to rural residents from all public television carriers. For this reason, it is imperative that programmers such as RFD TV have their programming available to all citizens, whether rural or urban.