I am a retired farmer in South Jersey, I am a loyal and long time subscriber to Dish TV and RFD-TV. I probably look at RFD-TV channel 25 percent of my TV Time. I especially enjoy the programming on Friday Saturday and Sunday. RFD TV's programming is enjoyable, clean and good for all ages.

I protest the dropping of RFD TV by Verizon. I have many urban friends who would like to see Dish's RFDTV on their supplies programming.

I have one family friend who is a rallied Philadelphia Phillies fan who wants RFDTV, but only Comcast carries the Phillies. If he leaves Comcast for DISH, he loses the Phillies games. These big urban companies should be made to carry some rural programming.

I respectfully request you thoroughly investigate the dropping of RFD-TV, the Weather Channel (another of my favorites) and the Outdoor Channel. I understand Verizon did NOT lower their rates after dropping these channels.
