To Whom It May Concern,

As an equine program provider for RFD-TV I am constantly amazed by the number of people in rural areas, throughout the country, that communicate how much they appreciate access to programming. Many of our viewers are very concerned that with recent developments between RFD-TV and Verizon that they will no longer have access to this important network. I would strongly urge all parties involved to use whatever leverage and latitude they have at their disposal to resolve their differences and once again provide premium programming to America's rural population.

Thank you for your consideration,

Cheryl and Richard Winters
