Hello,

My parents and I watch RFD-TV on DirecTV everyday. We consider it one of the 4 out of 240+ channels in our cable package that are worth watching. Actually, I think RFD-TV is the only station both of my parents can agree to watch!

My parents in their later years have become more attracted to wholesome shows like RFD-TV has. These shows make TV watching a more pleasant activity. Plus, the agricultural shows make all of us much more informed consumers. It is good to know how our food is and should be produced.

I should probably add, that we probably don't fit the obvious demographic that people think watch RFD-TV. We are African Americans living in an urban community, and we find RFD-TV a breathe of fresh air with its different content than other stations, positivity, and look into the rural setting. Please don't squeeze out RFD-TV from the channel holdings. There are plenty of channels showing infomercials all day to consider for the chopping block!
