I love being able to turn on RFDTV and watching rural American programming. its family friendly and also has shows on the subjects I love, from equine to farming and ranching. I am tired of cable companies and providers taking them off and then back on. that is one reason we switched to Direct TV. it is nice to watch TV without having to explain to my 6 year old niece what erectile dysfunction is and showing her where the food she eats comes from and how hard it is to produce. Please leave the network alone so I can continue enjoying quality television.
