

60001564598.txt

I watch RFD-TV on DirecTV. This is an informative station concerning our rural communities, farming, equine and cattle health, our personal health issues. Plus many music and entertainment programs also.

This station contributes much to our personal household and I would not want to lose this informative station. This also gives people living in the city and suburbs a better understanding of where their food products are coming from and how the farmer must produce it.