Here we go again, it wasn't that long ago Direct Cable network, that we have was also going to drop RFD, and after much protest kept RFD on.

Now Verizon Network has dropped RFD and several other independent channels including The Weather Channel which I consult when going out of state. I am born and raised in city but watch RFD more than any other channel.

Please explain why I must pay for 24- so-called channel but only watch about 8 and if they drop some channels I'm sure my bill won't drop but by and by will go up.

It's great to be able to watch TV with mixed company or youngster from several group I work with not having to worry about what going to be said and having to see a so-called hero a battle in his hand and a half naked woman disrobing and getting into sex, and hideous murders which have myself turn my head. So please have Verizon reinstate those independent channels Verizon seems to have no shame.
