I watch RFD.TV on DirecTv. They need to keep carrying RFD.TV because it is the only channel I can watch to learn about caring for and training my horse. It also has other programs I enjoy. One of the programs I still remember was watching Chris Cox win the Road to the Horse last year with an unbroken colt. Their weather reports are helpful in ways other reports are not. With all the shopping channels, religious channels, so-called reality tv channels, and Spanish channels, DirecTv makes me pay to watch, they should not be looking to drop one of the few channels I actually look forward to watching and have learned a great from these last years. Please make sure RFD.TV continues. Thank you. Sincerely yours, Morona Madsen.
