Direct TV. We are in rural area in Livermore, CA where we use Direct TV to receive our television service. Farming in California has been hit especially hard due to the drought. We watch RFD TV daily where we receive important information about the markets and where farming will take us in the future. The programming on RFD TV provides various programs for all ages they are informational as well as entertaining. I do not have an option in San Jose, CA (where I live at times) to watch RFD TV. The majority of programming on the other channels is not worth my time to watch there is too much drama. RFD TV is light hearted and fun with real instant information pertaining to the market trade for farmers. FCC please maintain our RFD TV streaming into our homes. All ages should watching RFD TV, if not they are missing a great channel. I feel RFD TV should be expanded to all areas especially to city children.
