

April 13, 2016

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary,

We are submitting for the record a report from AEI's Center for Internet, Communications, and Technology policy by Daniel Lyons. The report, titled "To narrow the digital divide, the FCC should not simply extend Lifeline to broadband" (see attachment) was sent by email on Wednesday, March 30, 2016 to the FCC employees listed below from the AEI email account of Jeffrey Eisenach.

- Matthew Berry
- Brendan Carr
- Robin Colwell
- Nick Degani
- Matthew Delnero
- Patrick Donovan
- Gary Epstein
- Susan Fisenne
- Walter Johnston
- Scott Jordan
- Julie Knapp
- Jonathan Levy
- Ruth Milkman
- Mike O'Rielly
- Ajit Pai
- Jonathan Sallet
- Phil Verveer

These FCC employees were inadvertently included as part of a mass email to more than 100 individuals in and out of government. In addition, a broader email blast with a link to the report was sent to thousands more individuals which may have included a small number of FCC employees in addition to those listed above. The second email originated from a generic AEI Research email.

Sincerely,

AEI's Center for Internet, Communications, and Technology Policy