

60001711299.txt

I support the concept presented in RM-11767 and the revision of 93.317(a)(2).

There appear to be no valid reasons to limit a separate amplifier device's gain operating below the legal limit in the amateur service. There appear to be valid reasons to not limit the device's gain with current technology and efficiencies. Thank you for your consideration.
Benson Scott / AE5V