

60001711323.txt

I agree with the proposal. The amount of amplification should not be a determining factor, just the amount of output power.

Limiting the amount of amplification, in my opinion, thwarts technological growth in the design of R-F amplifiers.