We have found most often when turn any program on RFD to be so very good be it any & all. We have learned to the many things you have given us.
From the fields & what they give.
The tractors & all different equipment & so often you have many ways to help us to know better to take good care of it.
My first great time was an auction of the black angus. Made me want to keep learning.
I was auctions for farm machinery, Carry from the wives husbands, children that seem to help & they learn to love it. Big ranches, such green farms & how these families from spring & how that get all produce & such to all of us to get it fresh in our groceries & homes. We thank you.

Horses, Cows, Gentle giants, pigs, chickens & so many, now how you take such care of each. We have learned a lot.

We get often when we turn some programs of music. We love it all.

Rodeos we watch is really a new thing for us & will keep it up.

We like so much with the news, wether, the history that we absorbs every wk.

Ray Eyler grew up raising pigs & bird on family farm. Ray is my husband & loves these same programs. Thanks so much

Dear FCC

FCC Proceeding #16-41

I am an older American who enjoys watching RFD-TV on my local cable connection Mediacom. I was raised on a productive farm in southern California both during and after WWII and have many fond memories of those days. I presently live in the city of Springfield in southwest Missouri and find the connection between our city and the surrounding countryside, with many many farms, to be symbiotic, which benefits both the farmers and the city dwellers. People all over the world need food, so everyone has a vested interest in rural areas, which includes those in urban centers.

There is much interest today in local "Farmer's Markets" and that is understandable. People want to have some say in the type of products that go on their table and certainly the "organic" lifestyle is gaining popularity daily as is reflected by the increasing number of such products on our grocery shelves.

RFD-TV gives a chance for those not living on farms to glimpse where their food comes from and how it is prepared for consumption. They also have the diversity of programming that has "something for everyone" and so much of it is wholesome, nostalgic and interesting as to attract a variety of viewers.

There should not be a wall between urban and rural as we all eat food which is produced on the farms and I ask you to please intervene in this issue of programming and protect these smaller companies that actually provide much good information and entertainment.

Thank you.

Dear FCC member 16-41

My Husband and I are seniors and we watch RFD TV very much.

We like your Entertainment shows: country music, movies, gospel shows, weather guide. These are just a few of the titles. The rural reports and news programs.

People should realize we need a lot of this information to help us arrange our days, our lives, and being uplifted spiritually as well.

We watch you on direct TV and that is one of the reasons we subscribed to it.

This channel has become a part of our lives and without it would be like losing a member of our family.

Thank you for your consideration to this very important matter!

Dear FCC # 16-41,

Our family lives and farms in a rural area in southern Ohio. We really appreciate RFD-TV and watch segments of it daily. One of the reasons we switched to Dish was the variety of channels we received, especially RFD-TV. As owners of a farm we have versatile interests, including poultry, cattle, horses, hogs, commodity crops and hay.

As a nation, we all need to remember that the vast majority of our food is not grown in urban or inner cities but is grown in rural areas like ours.

RFD-TV provides information vital to the rural farming community, plus entertainment which is of interest to farming people. Another way RFD-TV helps is by informing non rural citizen's ways to grow family type gardens, and raise poultry for their use and also to show ways to appreciate the U.S. farmers who toil long hours to provide food for the entire nation.

It is of benefit to many that RFD-TV programming is not deleted from Dish or any other form of programs. We would appreciate if you would take all of this into consideration.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Work

Dear FCC 16-41.

I watch RFD TV on Armstrong Cable, Butler Pa 16001. it is not effected. by what Verizon is trying to do at taking RFD off the air, what is your problem, and what part of No don't you understand, we do not all like sports, and Cop shows I do not want to watch anything but RFD and my local evening news I am a farm oriented person and I Sr. Citizen, I like Cowboy Church, Texas Country Reporter, and all the ranchers talking they are very full of educational things, which would any one be with out farmers & ranchers, next time you sit down to a meal, lunch. Breakfast or supper, take a good look at the plate, I am 83 years old, probably not the sharpest blade in the drawer, but I am smart enough to know we need farmers, big & small ranchers, people like you have absolutely no common sense, farmers and ranchers have more sense in there little fingers than you do in your whole body. I just don't see why your figure you should run everything your stuped way, Patrick is the smartest, most common sense person I ever heard speak, no one else holds a candle to him. I wish he'd run for President, so you go ~~on~~ ahead and run your city. Just leave us Country folk ~~alone~~, alone. Those Canadians learned the hard way, by experience, you read your knowledge out of a book, there is a big difference. So just keep your ideas to yourself and let us have ours. Next time you want to solve a problem, go to rough looking farmer, or rancher, you'd may get a surprise.

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

Dear FCC,

We live on Lake Guntersville, Guntersville, Al. Wanted to let you know we enjoy RFD and we feel it has been good for the American people because of agriculture, the great heritage of our music, and the family oriented programming.

We watch RFD about 90% of the time. This station could be shown in church without being ashamed.

One of our favorite shows is postcard from Nebraska.

We sincerely request that RFD be available to everybody.

Thanks for your consideration.

Dear FCC 16-41,

I really enjoy watching RFD channel on DirecTV satellite.

I'm very much a Senior Citizen and live 30 miles from town. I can't afford to go there for any entertainment, plus, I do not drive at night.

Please see fit to keep RFD on DirecTV.

I also like to be able to get my weather forecast.

Please don't let them stop RFDTV. It is one of the best stations on TV.

We are retired and spend quite a bit of time watching TV, but mostly RFDTV.

It has a good variety and a lot of good old country music. If it goes off the air, we probably will not watch TV very much. Just news and maybe a sports game if our home state is playing. Most of our friends watch RFDTV
