

60001841910.txt

I oppose this filing on the grounds that CW is one of the few modes that reliably "gets through" when other modes fail. Allowing other modes to take over the CW portions of the amateur bands will eventually kill off CW and along with that goes the men and women with considerable operating skill. CW signals, by their very nature, make far more economical use of spectrum than AM or Sideband signals, because CW requires so little bandwidth.

Please do not allow the proposal to pass. I am a life long CW operator active active since the 1960s.