

60001842031.txt

Amateur radio was founded on CW. When I got my license in 1976 CW was required. I think the FCC should have never dropped that requirement! To take away CW only band allocations would be ridiculous. The majority of each band is already phone. Please don't make another change that once more degrades the quality of amateur radio. Try CW, you will love it!