The exchange for video content is booming and extremely competitive, offering a diverse array of video streaming services, cloud-based video on demand, and apps providing news, films and programming. This market is quickly innovating beyond the traditional set-top box to new applications and devices with more diversity than ever. Past Commission attempts to control set-top boxes have been a complete failure. Yet another failed attempt at heavy-handed government regulation will only hinder innovation and benefit companies with political power rather than companies that provide what viewers want. We don't need the federal government to fix what isn't broken -- I urge you to reject the proposed rule.
