The exchange for video content is roaring and extremely competitive, offering a wide array of video streaming services, cloud-based video on demand, and apps providing news, movies and programming. This market is rapidly innovating beyond the traditional set-top box to new applications and devices with more choices than ever.

Past FCC attempts to control set-top boxes have been a complete failure. Yet another failed attempt at one-size-fits-all government regulation will only put the brakes on innovation and benefit companies with political influence rather than companies that provide what viewers want. We don't need the federal government to repair something what isn't broken -- I urge you to reject the proposed rule.
