The marketplace for video content is thriving and extremely competitive, offering a vast array of video streaming services, cloud-based video on demand, and apps providing news, movies and programming. This market is quickly innovating beyond the traditional set-top box to new applications and devices with more options than ever.

Past government attempts to regulate set-top boxes have been a complete failure. Yet another failed attempt at one-size-fits-all government regulation will only stifle innovation and benefit companies with political power rather than companies that provide what viewers want. We don't need the FCC to repair something what isn't broken -- I urge you to reject the proposed rule.
