

60001975287.txt

I oppose changing the current designations. CW is a widely used communications mode and is the best mode in difficult or emergency situations with minimal equipment or power.

Voice and image modes are extremely wide bandwidth and allowing them on the same frequencies will destroy CW communications.

CW needs in fact to be fostered, encouraged, and required of Amateur Radio operators, not crippled and destroyed.