

60001997503.txt

I am firmly opposed to placing limits on the internet based on a company's ability to pay. It's a sham that only serves the interests of the few massive telecommunications companies. It serves no one else.