

60002025519.txt

How can you say consumers "shouldn't have to sign away their right to privacy" to be on the Internet while doing nothing to rein in the biggest privacy violator in history: Google?