I can't even begin to describe how many times our family has been harassed through these annoying and interrupting phone calls, Almost all the time, there is not a human at the other end of the line, only a machine! What is especially irritating is the fact that these imposters can make any phone number and name appear on your caller id. Why can't we, the people, prevail over this obvious breach of personal privacy? It's about time to end this lunacy!
