

60002088844.txt

I carry a cellphone when I am out and about to be sure I can be reached in an emergency. I am busy with driving, an event or similar activity during those times. What I DO NOT NEED is an uninvited sales pitch on my cell phone. I do not make ANY purchases over the phone at any time. I want to know that an incoming call is one I want to pull off the road for. Otherwise...leave me alone!