I deeply resent the fact that most of the calls to my home phone now are unsolicited marketing and robocalls. If I didn't have to pay for my phone line each month, I might feel differently; but to pay for a service yet have no control over how service is delivered is wrong. Even though these calls sometimes allow future "opt-out", we have to sit through the message and listen to it until that point in a call comes (and I'm not convinced it works, even then). Also, since I receive several of these a day, the phone ringing often comes at a bad time -- waking up a napping person, dinnertime, after we go to bed at night. Please do whatever you can to eliminate this intrusion into our daily lives. Thank you.
