

60002091548.txt

At least once a day I get a call on both my cell and land line phone telling me it is my last chance to lower my credit card interest rate. I block that number on my cell & the next day I get the same call from a different number. I have added both of my numbers to the do not call list but that law doesn't get enforced.