

60002091879.txt

I encourage the FCC to tighten restrictions on robocalls immediately. Excessive calls harass individuals and families. Such calls, which seek debt collection, should be limited to one per month and only to the persons who hold student loan debt. Other forms of communication and or legal action should also be implemented to collect.