I'm tired of companies robo calling my Work cell phone. I have a company cell phone that is only for work but yet I get daily calls from companies and organization that have nothing to do with the business I'm in robo calling my work cell phone. These robocall companies have no idea that this is a work phone nor what our company does. I don't feel like a free person if my phone is being held hostage to these predatory robo call companies.

Now I know the FCC is being pressured by the companies, organizations, industry, and lenders who profit from robocalls... but the FCC needs to think of the victims of these predatory shady practices such as robocalls! ROBOCALLS are not wanted by normal people... and we should be protected from them.

With that said, if the FCC is not going to stop robocalls altogether than they should limit how these calls are made and put in place the following bullet points into the law:

- * Debt collection robocallers must notify us of our right to stop receiving calls
- * The number of allowed calls or texts should be limited to no more than three per month, and only to those who directly hold federal debt - not friends and family
- * The guidelines should be clear and readily available
