It seldom fails to annoy me with the silliness of Federal Level "logic".... I need to tell my Govt. that I do not want Robo calls. ok, I DO NOT WANT ROBO CALLS, does the FCC welcome robo calls? do you like them at 0800? in the evenings when you are having dinner or company? do you like stopping what you are doing to some idiot with a computer can tell me my loan needs to be refinanced, or my house insurance is not good enough, my student loans (I don't have) have interest rates that are too high... seriously, I don't know how much these and many other companies are paying for the election of key people who will quash this so they can continue their annoying and clearly at times harassing calls, but please don't get upset when I say I seriously doubt the FCC will do its job and apply some common sense here... does no one at the Federal Level get tired of being the right butt of most jokes... please, do your damn job, FOR A CHANGE. Show me 100 households who WANT THOSE CALLS.
