In today's technology, the cell phones and their cost are more popular to many consumers. But there are people; such as, myself that prefer more than a cell phone. The wireless residence line is an important source of communication too. Depending on the type of service it is less expensive than the cost of wireless cellular phones, and the service. I hope this doesn't overwhelm the necessity of a residential phone. Meaning the Hollywood/TV shows with not many shown as communication devices.
