

60002098244.txt

I have been getting calls from debt collectors for twenty-five years because an acquaintance listed our phone number when he went to the emergency room. He's been dead for several years, and I'm still getting his calls. I am adamantly opposed to robocalls to any phone for any reason. I don't owe anyone any money for anything, and they can still annoy me at their convenience.