

60002098290.txt

I am plagued at both lunchtime and dinnertime cold-calling strangers who want me to answer surveys or buy products I do not want. This is disruptive of my meals and conversations with my family, and is causing me and mine severe anxiety and anger. Please do your utmost to outlaw these disruptions of my life. They are shortening my life and hurting my family.