Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Why are you going out of your way to protect Google, Obama's biggest corporate patron?

What you are doing is an insult to our intelligence. A government takeover of the Internet on one hand with special interest carve-outs for Obama's multi-billion dollar corporate cronies on the other: What a disgrace!

You are doing absolutely nothing to protect our online privacy. In fact, you are using the power of government to create two sets of rules, while protecting certain hand-picked companies from any privacy rules whatsoever!

Your privacy plan doesn't regulate certain business practices, but rather selectively regulates those business practices by certain companies but not others.

This is the absolute worst example of industrial policy because it has government rather than the free market pick winners and losers in the marketplace.

Sincerely,

Peter Poranski
