

60002099246.txt

I am a CPA. I find more security breaches with the government systems than with private systems and the government doesn't admit to it until month after the weakness is discovered - proven fact with IRS and taxpayer ID identity theft. Millions have been lost from our budget. How is getting government involved in the internet going to help. They have already proven to be inept.