

60002210920.txt

access to broadband for all Americans needs to pay attention to rural unincorporated counties.

Counties have high cost internet in rural areas where people can not afford the cost however in the towns they have very affordable broadband; companies say low usage in rural counties is the reason. The broadband corp. get money from fed gov. to expand to rural locations however the expansion is not complete and corps. will not go back to complete access.