

I totally agree that Morse code holds a no role in amateur communications. I feel that code has no value in licensing and is just a recreational mode of choice.

I feel that Morse code should not be used as a filter to keep certain people from utilizing the high frequency radio spectrum. A 5 wpm minimum requirement should not be considered also as proposed by various amateur bodies.

A trade off for the elimination for Morse code testing should be additional theory and regulation tests.