

Big government does not need to turn cellular/wireless phones into tracking devices, especially without a court order. This is another Orwellian proposal, and has no place in a 'democratic' society, the anti-drug and anti-terrorism scare tactics to the contrary.