

With the advent of satellite phones, digital communications, we should do away with morse code. The U.S. Coast Guard did