

This type of invasion of privacy can't be allowed. The unrestrained surveillance of citizens of the United States of America is taking away from us the very thing that we fight for and lose lives for in every war, our own personal freedom. This affront by the government to a honest hard working citizens can't be allowed.

I personally can see where this can and will lead as has every initiative that has promised to only take a little of our freedom, we will be monitored 24 hours a day. Is this what you want to see, all of America on a board in the FBI headquarters, as little red dots on a computerized screen. When one dot is selected all of our personal information pops up including our current location, and any other electronic tidbit, i.e. maybe even tied into satellite surveillance system, where will it end.

You have to put the skids on this seemingly small invasion of the common citizens privacy, in the name of catching a very small percentage of America "the criminals".

Thank you for allowing me to express my opinion of which I hope is taken into consideration upon your decision.
