

I live in a small valley that does not have cable service and it is impossible to receive the major networks with any level of clarity with an antenna. I moved here three years ago and subscribed to primestar with major network programming. I am now faced with losing it (major network programming). Why??? It does not make sense. The rules need to be much more flexible.