

I wish to object to the FBI having the ability to monitor internet conversations, as well as cell phone locations. Although I recognize that these methods can be used properly for improved law enforcement, I am VERY concerned (based upon past FBI behavior) that this will give the FBI formal permission to carry out far-reaching surveillance and disruption of social and political groups that do not agree with current political doctrine.

It is essential that the FBI not have new surveillance capabilities. They WILL misuse them, as they have done in the past. We are not very far from Orwell's 1984 capabilities. Let us not formally open the door to the next level of Hell.

Thank you for your consideration.