

98-178
RECEIVE

DEC 28 1998
FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMM
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

BIOGRAPHICAL STATEMENT
JOHN C. GAMBOA

John C. Gamboa, the Executive Director of the Greenlining Institute, has a diverse managerial experience serving in Academia, the Private sector and the non-profit sector.

Prior to the Greenlining Institute, he was Executive Director of Latino Issues Forum, Communications Manager at U.C. Berkeley, Executive Director of Project Participar, a citizenship program, and Marketing and Advertising Manager at Pacific Bell.

As Executive Director for the Greenlining Institute, Mr. Gamboa focuses on public policy issues that promote economic development in urban and low-income areas, and in developing future leaders within this country's minority youth. He has been active in combating redlining and in providing a voice for the poor and underserved in insurance, banking, utilities and telecommunications issues.

RECEIVED
DEC 28 1998
FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Mr. Gamboa has served on:

- The first ULTS committee overseeing the implementation of Telephone Lifeline Service.
- Chair of the California Public Utilities Commission's investigative task force on marketing abuses on California's low-income communities.
- The Health Access board of directors working to provide quality health care for the uninsured and under-insured residents of our country.
- The Common Cause board of directors working on good government and true campaign reform issues.
- Latino Issues Forum board of directors.
- U.C. Berkeley chancellor Tien's Community Advisory Committee providing input on current issues confronting U.C.
- Chairman of EDGE's board of directors, an organization bringing minority and environmental community organizations together to work on common issues of growth.
- Berkeley YMCA board of directors.
- Spanish Speaking Citizens foundation board of directors.

No. of Copies rec'd 0+1
List ABCDE

Joni Inman

Joni Inman is the director of Citizen Relations for the City of Lakewood, Colorado, a city with a population of 140,000 people. In that capacity, she oversees public information, graphic and print services, government access television, serves as the city's regulator for telecommunications issues and as the chief political advisor to the mayor, city council and city manager. She currently serves as president of the Greater Metro Telecommunications Consortium, a group of 22 cities and 3 counties in the Denver metro area which works together as a regulatory group on a variety of telecommunications issues.

The Consortium communities represent a half-million cable customers and works on behalf of approximately 2.2 million residents in the Denver metro area.

She serves on telecommunications committees for the Denver area Metro Mayors Caucus and the Colorado Municipal League.

Charles M. Brewer

Charles Brewer is the founder, Chairman, and CEO of MindSpring Enterprises, Inc. He founded MindSpring in 1994, and it is now one of the largest independent Internet service providers in the United States. As of the end of October 1998, MindSpring serves over 600,000 customers nationwide and has over 800 employees. MindSpring believes that focusing on delivering the highest possible quality of service is the key to success, growth, and profitability in its industry. MindSpring aspires to be a different and better kind of company. By following its Core Values and Beliefs, MindSpring believes it can do an extraordinary job of serving its customers, employees, owners, and community. MindSpring has received numerous awards and honors for the quality of its service, including the Net Guide People's Choice ISP of the Year Award, a Best Buy from Smart Money magazine, and the PC World "World Class Award for Best ISP". MindSpring is a public company traded on the NASDAQ national market.

From 1989 until 1993 Mr. Brewer served as Chief Financial Officer and then Chief Executive Officer of AudioFAX, Inc., a supplier of facsimile processing software and systems whose primary customers were Regional Bell Operating Companies.

In the early part of his career, Mr. Brewer was a San Francisco based Institutional Sales Representative for the investment banking firm Wertheim & Company.

Mr. Brewer was born and reared in Louisville, Kentucky. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Amherst College with a degree in Economics, and he received his MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business. He is married and lives in Atlanta's Ansley Park neighborhood. He serves on the Board of Directors of the Midtown Alliance and the Board of Councilors of the Carter Center.

MARK D. ROELLIG
Executive Vice President - Public Policy, Human Resources and Law
U S WEST

Mark Roellig is the Executive Vice President of Public Policy, Human Resources and Law for U S WEST. In this position he acts as General Counsel and Secretary for U S WEST. He is responsible for all legal, public policy and human resources issues and strategies impacting U S WEST and its subsidiaries.

Roellig joined U S WEST in Seattle, Washington. Before joining U S WEST, Roellig was in private practice in Seattle. Roellig earned his bachelor of science degree with highest distinction in applied mathematics in 1976 from the University of Michigan. He received a Juris Doctorate from the National Law Center at George Washington University in 1979. Roellig earned a master's of business administration in 1988 from the University of Washington Business School and was elected to Beta Gamma Sigma, an honor society in business.

James W. Cicconi

James W. Cicconi is Senior Vice President for Government Affairs and Federal Policy at AT&T. He joined AT&T in September, 1998 after nine years as a partner at Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer & Feld, L.L.P., the nation's tenth largest law firm. While practicing law at Akin Gump, Mr. Cicconi specialized in administrative and regulatory law, as well as federal legislation, representing a range of corporate clients, including Mobil, Pfizer, The Bank of New York, and AT&T. He was also involved in a number of significant transactions, including the public sale of Conrail, the restructuring of Executive Life Insurance, the acquisition of Vought Aircraft, the acquisition of Square D, and the restructuring of Lloyd's of London.

Mr. Cicconi interrupted his legal practice in January, 1989 to serve for two years in the White House as Deputy Chief of Staff to President Bush. In that capacity, he was one of the President's closest aides, overseeing the flow of information to and from the Oval Office and coordinating the decision-making process within the White House. Mr. Cicconi served as the Senior Issues Advisor to President Bush's 1988 and 1992 election campaigns, and has coordinated both the drafting of the party platform and debate preparation for the last three Republican presidential nominees. He also served on the transition staffs of President-elect Bush and Secretary of State-designate James A. Baker III in 1988.

Mr. Cicconi served previously in the White House from 1981 to 1985 as Special Assistant to the President and Special Assistant to Chief of Staff James A. Baker III, with responsibility for policy matters ranging from judicial selections to attendance at Cabinet meetings.

Before joining the White House staff in 1981, Mr. Cicconi worked as Administrative Assistant to the Governor of Texas, and as General Counsel to the Texas Secretary of State.

Mr. Cicconi has served as a presidential appointee to the Administrative Conference of the United States, 1990-92; as a member of the U.S. Reform Observation Panel for UNESCO, 1985-88, and as a member of the U.S. delegation to the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE). He has been a consultant to the U.S. State Department on international organization matters, and has appeared on numerous television broadcasts, including ABC's Nightline, the CBS Evening News, CNN's NewsDay and Crossfire, and the MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour.

James W. Cicconi

Mr. Cicconi currently serves as a director of the El Paso Electric Company; vice president of the George Bush Presidential Library Foundation; vice president of the Foundation for the National Archives; and as a director of the American Council on Germany.

Mr. Cicconi received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Texas at Austin in 1974, and a doctor of jurisprudence degree from the University of Texas School of Law in 1977. He is a member of the District of Columbia Bar and the State Bar of Texas. Born on June 8, 1952 in Elmira, New York, he currently resides in Alexandria, Virginia, with his wife, Patricia, and their children Jill, Sara, and Rachel.