

I am a maker of an AM low power type accepted transmitter (NWXAM 1000). I would like to see new FM radio services but if they were allowed to be commercial it could cause my investment in developing this product to be wasted. It would seem to me that most if not all goals in this matter could be accomplished if these new services were non commercial.

Thanks, Keith Hamilton