

After reading about wireless phone tracking, which is currently being talked about, i was appalled. How can a government that is supposed to be for the people, justify keeping tabs on them whenever they want. This is something that should not be done, without being voted on by the nation. I do know that I will not vote for any politician who agrees with the tracking idea!