

I am not a criminal. I have no intent of ever becoming a criminal. However, I am growing increasingly concerned, about the "Big Brother" atmosphere in our government. This proposal of using cell phones as tracking devices is just another attempt of government to have control over us. It is an invasion of privacy, and probably unconstitutional. I don't need the government telling me when to go to the bathroom, or watching me while I do so! Vote NO!