REPLY COMMENTS of SBC COMMUNICATIONS INC.

SBC Communications Inc.¹ (“SBC”) files these Reply Comments in response to the Comments on the Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (“FNPRM”) regarding standard labels for line-item charges relating to federal regulatory action. SBC is replying to only three issues raised by other parties in Comments on the Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (Comments), the length of the prescribed labels and the proposal made by MCI WorldCom on the proposed "Long Distance Access" label.

I. Length of Proposed Labels

The billing systems of many billing entities have limitations as to the number of characters that can be printed out on a bill in conjunction with a specific charge. For that reason, SBC strongly urges the Commission to keep the labels to 24 characters or less (including spaces between words) or to allow abbreviation of words to achieve that purpose. For example, the label "FCC Universal Service Fee" exceeds the 24 character limitation, while the term "Federal Universal Service" does not exceed the limit. While ¹ SBC Communications Inc. is the parent company of various subsidiaries, including telecommunications carriers. These subsidiaries include Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (“SWBT”), Pacific Bell, Nevada Bell, and The Southern New England Telephone Company (“SNET”). The abbreviation “SBC” shall be used herein to include each of these subsidiaries as appropriate in the context.

"Federal Universal Service Fee" probably conveys the nature of the charge equally as well as "Federal Universal Service," but it does not add to the understanding of the nature of the charge. "Fee" is assumed when the label is associated with a charge or "fee" appearing on the bill. Labeling requirements should not impose heavy economic burdens to use one label, when a shorter label will serve the same purpose equally well.

II. MCI's Labeling Proposal

MCI suggests labels that support its marketing schemes, rather than labels designed to convey information as to the nature of the charge in a clear and neutral manner. For example, MCI asserts that the proposed "Long Distance Access" label should be changed because customers might believe that the fee is for use of the long distance carrier's network. The substitutes suggested by MCI are "National Access Fee," "PICC," or "Carrier Access Charge." None of those proposed substitutes is as simple and clear as "Long Distance Access" which is, of course, a fee imposed to recover a portion of the cost of the local exchange carrier's network because that network is used to provide access to long distance service providers.

MCI's proposal to change the "Federal Universal Service" label to "Local Service Subsidy" would convert a clear and simple label to one that is actually misleading. Labeling that charge a "Local Service Subsidy" would seem to imply a general subsidy to local service providers, rather than a charge established to create a fund to promote universal service by subsidizing local service in high cost areas. Both of these MCI proposals should be rejected because the labels proposed by the Commission are shorter and clearer than the labels proposed by MCI.

III. "Number Portability" Label

The Public Utility Commission of Texas (Texas PUC) questions the use of the label "Number Portability" because it has had numerous complaints on its customer hotlines from customers that misunderstand that label. SBC would urge that no change be made to this label because, while it may not fully explain all aspects of the charge, any new label will bring a new round of complaints until customers become educated as to the meaning of the new label. No label that will fit within the billing system character limitations can adequately explain the nature of this charge.

The complaint SBC has most frequently received about the charge has been in the nature of a protest at being required to pay for number portability costs, when the customer has not transferred their service to another carrier. There is no way to clearly explain the necessity of number portability to facilitate competition and allow the seamless transmission of calls from customers served by one company to customers of another company in twenty-four characters or less. SBC business offices have spent a considerable amount of time explaining the nature of this particular charge to customers. Through that process, those customers that read their bill have gradually become educated as to the nature of the "Number Portability" charge. Any change in that label now would cause the process to start all over again and the Texas PUC, as well as SBC, would again be flooded with complaints about a charge the customer does not understand. The label should not be changed unless and until someone is able to propose a label that would clearly explain the nature of the charge in twenty-four characters or less, which SBC believes to be an impossibility.

IV. Conclusion

For the reasons stated above, SBC respectfully requests that the Commission keep the required labels short and allow individual billing entities to use abbreviations, where necessary, in order to avoid unnecessarily requiring very expensive changes to existing billing systems. SBC also urges the Commission to reject the proposals of MCI to adopt labels that are less clear than the labels proposed by the Commission.

Respectfully Submitted,

SBC COMMUNICATIONS INC.
