Subject: AREA CODE OVERLAYS

Dear Chairman Kennard:

I cannot express strongly enough how outraged I am about the way people are forced to make a local telephone call.

If we have the intelligence to create marvelous technology, it is impossible to accept the telecommunication companies' claim that the only way to deal with the demand for new telephone numbers is to have more area codes and overlays.

I recently attended a briefing by California state Assemblymember Sheila Kuehl, who relayed information from your office. I understand you will be making a decision very soon.

I urge you to implement the ideas in the petitions of the California PUC (e.g. number pooling, different area codes for fixed and mobile technology) and to do so as soon as possible.

By a copy of this message to President Clinton and Vice President Gore, I am asking them to treat the problem as seriously as Y2K. It affects so many people so constantly.

Perhaps there should be a commission or government-funded R&D to find a long-term solution that makes life easy for the consumer.

Thank you for your consideration.

Re: CC DOCKET 99-200

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Dear Sir;

I am writing to let you know how many of us are dazed and confused by the hopeless mire this 310/424 phone overlay situation has caused. It seems incomprehensible to have to dial a code to call the apartment upstairs and your neighbor down the street WHO HAS THE SAME CODE as your own. This might be applicable if one was dialing a mobile cell-phone or beeper, but I really object to using 11 numbers to reach the LOCAL market! Citizens of New York, London and Paris, which each must have an equal population to LA's, don't have to suffer through this. Please lambast the hoarders of 10,000 batch number-pools and switch us back to sanity ASAP! This is mind-numbing!

Thanks, Beate Nilsen
