

The Notice of Proposed Rule-Making today, implementing the mandatory filtering requirements for schools and libraries is a bad way to implement protections of our youth. It is a bad idea to use technology to enforce any moralistic beliefs where our government deems this as responsible behavior. These protections need to be implemented through the parents or other responsible adult 'human beings'. It is in my opinion just another way the congress is trying to legislate morality.