

The internet filtering law is a poor choice of effort for the fed. If the law can not be ignored then implimentation of the law should be as relaxed as possible, allowing schools and libr.s access to the full spectrum of information avialible - anything else is censorship.